an authentic italian experience

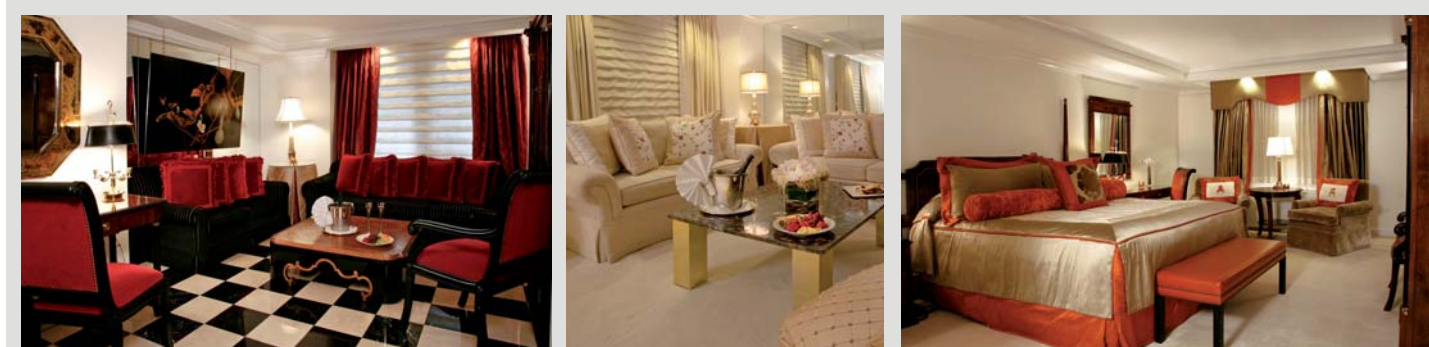

The new hall is an assembly of details whose result is perfection. The flooring is mottled marble, in nuances of coral, leading up to the reception like a red carpet. Along the way are a number of islands formed by linear design sofas with silky soft red and brown fabrics. The fil rouge is also seen in the scarlet wall coverings. The bar, which looks out onto the wide 7th Avenue, has an intimate coffeehouse atmosphere. It is furnished with coffee coloured deep-buttoned velvet benches, same colour carpeting and red silk wall coverings that glint flame-like in the light of gold leaf lamps. A superb blending of glamour and sophistication.

history

The building dates back to 1926 and has always been a hotel. Starhotels acquired it in 1992 and called it The Michelangelo.

rooms, suites & residences

The 179 exceptionally spacious room were lovingly renovated, their variety of styles being faithfully maintained. Some rooms have a fresh, sunny and modern feel, with blonde wood and vibrant azure velvets, while the suites are in a more dramatic style with fiery red and black velvet furnishings. And everywhere oriental-style gold leaf lamps, intriguing bookcases and sofas, all reflected in mirrors cunningly placed to expand volumes and multiply images of warmth and cosiness ad infinitum. The whole is an ode to luxury – in spaciousness, its fabrics, its detailing. The bathrooms are the biggest in Manhattan. And the 28 residential apartments are the ideal solution for long stays.
